FROM MONTANA

The Montana Post of the date furnishes the subjoined items:

BIG HANK DISTRICT

This flourishing section of the quartz ground at Dunlap with agricultural facilities and requisites for a high order of civilization at present progressing rapidly both in mining and in clearing and putting it in view. As one instance we may cite Messrs. Annin & Light, who are largely engaged in the latter business, having one hundred and fifty acres of small grain and miscellaneous crops. The farm, of these gentlemen lies on the side of the creek, near the mines. All the side of the valley was settled by the Confederate General Steuart, of which Mill creek is the hill country. It is a noble site for farms, occupied by thriving, agricultural

This is one of the distinguishing features of Montana—that combines the usually separated mining and agricultural regions. It vouches well for the future of this place, as the labor necessary for the pursuits of farming and mining mutually dependent and supporting, while around and about the flanks and heads of a continent could find employment in the exhaustless beds of gravel that contains and the rich crystal water from the multitudinous and perennial streams that stripe with silver the hills and the canyons.

THE SUMMIT DISTRICT

The prospects of Summit District and the hills and tributaries are the brightest and most encouraging. Labor is employed in all the claims in the district, and can command with ease all the men and means at the disposal of its locals. The records of this county tend of the many difficulties finally to the great profit. A mere installation of the richness and extent of the mineral veins, I cannot do not the purpose of this article; we have not the time nor the ability to peril ourselves in the attempt to give an account of the completion of contracts for the erection of five Stamps by one firm of this city. Messrs. Griffith & Co. upon which are their buildings in process of erection at present by the Fosters, as also with the rest of the remaining five which are ready to put in operation on the same day and a fourth will soon be ready. Several ground sluices are also running. The hydraulics at present, are simply cutting down the heavy bank. Mail ray's Bar is also opening flume and is very fair for the future. On the rims, in the main gulch below are cleaning from one to two men per day to the man. Uncle Johnnie's Gulch, and the lines on White's Gulch, are yielding a rich harvest to their owners, and that is but an earnest of what lies at the bottom of the main gulch. New York Gulch is still and justly ster selling the attention as of a large number of miners. The town is rapidly improving and the claims of definite merit readily find no trouble to take out $300 to fifty square feet of bed rock, and, as the stunk is very even and from 50 to 100 feet in width there is from $20,000 to $40 00 and even more in each claim. It must also be remembered that not more than half the ground has been washed in the flat, the first time that it is washed. Its turn we must not forget Oreamboro Gulch, coming into the main gulch just at the upper end of town as it is of—cut we talk at the lower end. Where it has been tested as high as $46 to the pan has been taken out. The ditches to it are being rapidly completed, and it will soon tell for even more. The great quartz excitement never had a equal. Trout Creek continues other lodes are rich as the former continue to be discovered, and as yet this is but the beginning.

FROM UTAH

The Following Items we clip from the Vedette of May 31st:

GOOD STAGING

The Overland (Hi Brady) Stage Line is now doing tip top staging between here and Idaho, as well as between here and Montana. The road in either point of interest is in excellent condition, save here and there a temporary swelled stream. The Weber, near Ogden City, is almost impassable for freight teams, but that will be remedied by a mammoth scow now being finished.

A SHOOTING AFFAIR.

There has been many rumors in circulation about the above affair during the last few days. Yesterday we met a gentleman from Springville who gave us the following facts in the case. It appears that a week ago Thursday night a man by the name of Coleman went to the house of a Mrs. Noake, whose husband was away, and passed the night with her. Friday morning she charged him with rape and had him arrested, when he claimed that he was invited by her to pursue the course he did. Sunday night his hands were tied and soon after the woman and several men came to where he was confined under guard and dismounted that he take back what he had said, which he refused to do. She then drew a pistol and fired twice when the cap snapped and one of her male friends handed her another pistol with which she completed her work. She after wards gave herself up and was tried and acquitted.

THE TARPANAGAT MINES.

A friend recently from Tabequanigat represents that miners are arriving daily, and much energy is manifested in the development of ledges there.

TRAINS BOUND WESTWARD.

The following trains have organized and passed Fort Kearney:

May 13th—Conductor D. McCurdy, 24 wagons, bound for Oregon.

May 14th—Conductor Bond 25 wagons bound for Virginia.

May 14th—Conductor McKimbody, 40 men Virginia City.

INDIAN FIGHT

We learn that the detachment of the Territorial militia that left here some weeks since had a fight with the Indians a few days ago in one of the southern counties, resulting in one white killed and three wounded, and no Indians hurt.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS

The Jordan has overflowed its banks and the result is much damage to property located on the low lands adjacent to the river.

Everybody rushing to the Northern mines. Next Winter we will have three or four thousand transient population in this city.

Quartermaster Ingalls of the regular army is expected here in a few days.

FROM COLORADO AND THE PLAINS

EMIGRATION ACROSS THE PLAINS

The Denver News says: Wagons for the advance of our spring emigration are now daily arriving with all the paraphernalia of housekeeping goods, women and children to

The Omaha Republican of the 10th says that spring operations on the far west line fairly commenced. The ferry is crowded with teams from morning till night.

The Omaha Herald says that many of the vacant lots around it are now occupied by the snow white canvas of the many emigrants who have arrived with us since Saturday, on their way across the plains, and it is another item that the sure makings of Omaha are filled with troops who, during the next few days, will take up their line of march for the plains. Wagons are being laden with the choicest goods to suit, and trains are being formed and hourly leaving for the west.

COL. BALLOCK FOREIGN WEST

The Rocky Mountain News says: Col. Babcock is on a tour of inspection visiting the various military posts of the West and in the execution of his orders will go to the Pacific coast. His visit to the Indians are exceedingly well planned for he will call on all the chiefs and he has conducted an equation with the manners and habits. The visit cannot but result in the most salutary and complete order. He thinks that they should be established until the Indians there will be no permanent safety from depredations. In speaking Pahsimeroi he remarked that it was a good part of the battle ground where the Indians made such reservation. Speaking upon the subject, he remarked that he was committed to might have wished, and we guess it is about right in his conclusions.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS

The Platte river is rising rapidly, is quite Beaver Water enough in that muddy stream to float a gunboat.

Eight hundred and nineteen ounces of gold are reported as the result of one week's run by the Blackhawk mills.

A Circle of Jordan has been organized in Denver, over by Fort of snow Gulch, Central and Blackhawk are all the talk of lively weather just for May.

Right Rev. John B. Lamy, Bishop of Santa Fe, has arrived in Denver.

Vegetables have made their appearance in the Denver market.

WHAT WE MUST PAY.—In his speech on the Loan bill Mr. Scofield of Pennsylvania, said:

The amount of our public debt on the first day of this month was $2 711 856 000. Deducting half of this amount is funded. Within the next three years $1 000 000 000 of this debt will fall due and will be presented at the counter of the Treasury Department for payment. That payment must be promptly made or our paper goes to protest and our credit is broken. Between this day and the 30th of June next we must pay, in add

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 16 1866.

The War Cloud in Europe

Austria, Prussia and Italy are still vigorously arming in preparation for the threatened war. The causes of the quarrel are somewhat obscurely hidden in the very intricate complications of European politics, but when put in its simplest form it is but a strife between the contestants for supremacy in the middle of the continent of Europe. Latest advices inform us that hostilities are delayed to give opportunity for the assemblage of a general congress to consider, and if possible, to settle the questions in dispute. The origin of the quarrel is clearly described by a writer in the June number of Harper's Magazine, as follows

"There has for years existed among the German people a strong wish to establish a united Germany, which would then take rank as a great European Power, not inferior to either France or Russia. It happens that the only good seaports in Germany are in the Duchy of Holstein, and this in 1850 belonged to Denmark, the king of which, as Duke of Holstein, was a member of the cumbrous German Confederation, the two leading members of which are Austria and Prussia. In 1864, the Duchies of Schleswig and Holstein, taking advantage of a dispute in regard to the law of succession, broke away from Denmark. Austria and Prussia, looking for their own aggrandizement, took part in the war which ensued, and compelled Denmark to give up the Duchies. The question then arose, what should be done with them. Prussia wished to incorporate them with her own dominions; Austria, while not ostensibly claiming them for herself, but rather insisting that they should remain in a manner independent, was determined that Prussia should not have them, as their possession by Prussia would make her the predominant power in Germany. Recently both parties have shown a disposition to have recourse to arms, each increasing its army, and finding in the conduct of the other grounds for demanding new explanations and guarantees. Prussia demands the reassemblage of a German Parliament, to which Austria is willing to accede on condition that all her provinces be represented, instead of only a part, as at present,—Bohemia, Hungary and Venetia, though portions of the Austrian Empire, not being included in the Germanic Confederation. If such a Parliament is convoked without this condition, Prussia will have the larger vote; with the condition, Austria will have the larger vote. The gist of the question, therefore, no matter in what shapelit is phrased, is whether Austria dares to go to war to prevent Prussia from acquiring the supremacy in Germany. In the event of a war, it may be assumed that the King of Italy would make a protest for an effort to wrest the Italian province of Venetia from Austria, unless he were prevented from so doing by his virtual master, the Emperor Napoleon. Upon that sovereign seems now to depend, in effect, the question of peace or war in Europe.

The present attitude of affairs in Europe seems to have been brought about, in great part, by the shrewd diplomacy of the French Emperor. He tells the world that he "detests the treaty of 1815," by which France was limited to her present territory. Under the first Napoleon the boundaries of France were pushed to the Rhine, which has always been claimed as their "natural extension." If there is any revival of the map of Europe, the great politician and diplomat of France will assuredly solve the question to "certify" the boundaries of his Empire.

A Chance to Endorse Chase.

While Andrew Johnson, Seward, Chase and leading men of the administration were standing together on the position that "treason is a crime," and were united in the effort to make "treason odious," they were all unsparingly denounced by the Democracy as "tyrants," "despots," etc., etc. They were anathematized for keeping martial law in force in the rebellious States. That was an engine, they said, of despotism, because it prevented the local courts from shielding conspirators and traitors by the use of habeas corpus and kindred process. They cursed the administration for suspending the privileges of habeas corpus, because such suspension prevented the wrecking of criminals from arrest, imprisonment and punishment. They denounced and cursed any all measures, all acts of commission or omission which tended to the safety of the Government or toward the punishment or inconvenience of traitors. No sooner, however, did Johnson indicate that he felt disposed to let up on traitors and blackened sinners than the whole Democratic brood of treason-sympathizers, united in a prolonged howl of delight and acclamation to Johnson the great constitution saver—Johnson the man of gigantic intellect, Johnson the man of iron will, Johnson, the defender of liberty, Johnson the great embodiment of Democracy, etc., etc. But there were drawbacks to Democratic ecstasy; there were still certain things which dampened the joy which Democrats felt in the discovery of a "Moses:" Jeff. Davis was still in prison; martial law still prevailed in most of the Democratic States; some of them still had military Governors—"minions of a dog"—we came near pronouncing the name usually applied to Lincoln. But Johnson is not a Lincoln, and Johnson, the Democratic "Moses," is only preserving the "liberties of the people" by what was in Lincoln, military tyranny!

But Democracy is facile and accommodates itself with wonderful promptitude to the changing moods of men. Johnson, the treason-hater, was a monster and usurper—Johnson, the Democratic "Moses" and treason-rewarder, is entirely another person and viewed as a Democrat through Democratic lenses, his tyranny became suddenly transmitted into something quite remarkable in the way of strict adherence to the Constitution and a faithful and honest administration of the laws. The Democrats adopted him, oddorsed him and lodauhed him with the slaver of Democratic adulation, simply upon his exhibition of spleen toward the "Radicals"—not waiting even for the restoration of habeas corpus or the withdrawal of tyrannical martial law.

Now comes Chase and demands that martial law be withdrawn from Virginia; holds an interview with the President and urges him to release his military grasp on the throat of Virginia so that the courts can sit, try and convict or release criminals without the danger of officious interference by the "minions" of a Moses. The dignity of the Court, he pleads, calls for the cessation of martial law. The preeminence of civil law, he argues, ought to be asserted and maintained. He dont want any of Moses' satraps interrupting the regular course of legal proceedings as they did in Louisiana. And so the Chief Justice plants himself on the ramparts of the citadel of constitutional liberty, armed cap a pie, and prepared to defend the "liberties of the people." Democrats have never abused Chase more than they have heaped loud mouthed damnation upon Johnson. Johnson they have endorsed—and now they have a chance to endorse Chase who has got even in advance of Johnson on this question of martial-law tyranny. Who speaks first?

Governor Orr, of South Carolina, has expressed his opinion regarding the teaching of freed people. He believes it is good for them and for the State. He says the teachers shall be protected in their duties, and that the prejudice against them and their occupation is disappearing.

What a "Scottish abolitionist" Governor Orr has become! Whither are we drifting?

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

DATES TO JUNE 14.

Official Map of Genoa, Nevada.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The General Land Office has just prepared a map of the town of Genoa, Douglas county, Nevada, in order that those claims may realize the benefits of the town site under the law of 1865.

The Funding Bill will Fail.

Sherman's funding bill will not pass in its present shape, and will probably fail entirely. It is very certain, nothing short of it can be passed at all, and at best we will make 5-20 1865 bonds nothing but gold bonds.

F. H. Washburne Nominated for Congress.

CHICAGO, June 13.—E. B. Washburne (Radical) was nominated this morning for Congress by acclamation.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—In the Senate, Corbett, of California, from the committee on Post Offices and Post roads, reported a joint resolution releasing the Pacific Mail Steamship Company from that part of their contract requiring them to run the line which was ordered to be printed.

In the House Shannon, of California, introduced a bill granting land to California, in aid of the construction of certain wagon roads for military and postal purposes which was read twice and referred to the committee on public lands.

The Colorado question has not been touched in the Senate since the President's veto, and will probably not be taken up at all, unless it can command a two-thirds vote, which its friends do not altogether despair of securing.

A branch mint building is to be erected at Carson City, Nevada, immediately, and the plans have been forwarded.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The House, by a vote of 120 against 52, passed the Constitutional amendment in the form adopted by the Senate on the 8th and which was then fully telegraphed. In closing the debate in the House, Thaddeus Stevens said, the House portion of the committee of fifteen were unanimously agreed that the Senate amendment should be concurred in and while he (Stevens) found much good in the joint resolution he could not but regret the omission of many better things. He said: In my youth, in my manhood, and in my old age I have fondly dreamed that when any fortunate chance should have lead us up for a time the foundations of our institutions and released us from obligation to the most tyrannical ever imposed in the name of freedom, the intelligent, free, and first born of one Republic from their professions and their consciences would have no remedies left our institutions up to have freed them of every vestige of oppression, in equality of rights—of the recognized degradation of the poor and the superior caste of the rich. In short that no distinction would be tolerated in this republic but that which arose from meritorious conduct. This bright dream has vanished like the baseless fabric of a vision. I did we shall be obliged to be content with patching the worst portions of the ancient fabric and leaving it in many of its parts to be swept through by the tempests, frosts and storms of despotism. Do you inquire why holding these views and possessing some will of my own, I accept so imperfect a proposition? I answer because I live among men and not angels, among men as intelligent, as determined and as honest as myself, differing, who, not agreeing with me, would not be led to yield their opinions to mine. Mutual concessions therefore, is our only resort from mutual hostility. Let us, he said, in conclusion, no longer delay but we take what we can now and hope for better things in future legislation.

The final vote was taken without excitement, every Unionist present, including Raymond and Hale of New York, and Green Clay Smith of Kentucky voting aye, and only Democrats no.

The Clerk of the House will now forward certified copies of the amendment to the Governors for notification by the Legislatures it having been decided upon the suggestion of President Lincoln in the case of the amendment abolishing slavery, that the Executive has nothing to do with such legislation.

Among other matters in Congress to-day, Trumbull of Indiana reported to the Senate the House bill reducing the number of Supreme Court Judges from ten to nine.

The senate passed the Legislative Appropriation bill with an amendment placing $150,000 at the disposal of the Secretary of the Treasury for distribution among the clerks as extra compensation, also an amendment giving the President a Private Secretary at a salary of $3,000 an assistant Secretary at a salary of $2,500 two short-hand writers at a salary of $2,400 each; a pardon clerk at $2,000, and three clerks at $1,800 each. The amendment giving the Secretary of the Treasury this magnificent sum was adopted by 23 against 14 after a protracted debate in which McCulloch's political course was ventilated.

Foreign News.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15.—The Eastern line is out of order beyond Fort Kearney. No news report received.

Opposition steamship Mazo Taylor sailed for San Juan del Sur this morning.

A little son of Mr Derrick, a printer, aged 5 years, residing on Pacific street, near Jones, died this morning from the effect of having eaten lucifer matches.

The examination of John Duane, charged with complicity in the shooting of Ross, was resumed yesterday afternoon. A large number testified to the shooting by Charley, son of John being present at the time. Another witness testified that he heard John say to Charley just before the shooting, "Will the son of a b—h." Another witness testified that he and Playfully searched Ross about an hour before the shooting and found him unarmed, and that Ross stated that he never carried weapons. One of the parties opposed to Duane in the land dispute, testified that when Mr. Dick was searched for weapons during the squatter trials, John Duane said "Search Ross, he carries concealed weapons, damn him he will not be killed yet." The case on the part of the people was then closed, and the defence are introducing their testimony.

The market for exchange and bullion for Monday's steamer opens rather quietly, and there is little variation of rates. Coin drafts on Atlantic cities, however, are a shade firmer, owing to an advance in sterling bullets to 12½ per cent. The leading bankers quote currency drafts at 40 per cent. premium; on gold coin drafts, 2½@2¾ per cent premium. Telegraphic transfers are nominal, most bankers being disinclined to operate, owing to the unsettled state of affairs in the east.

Bankers say drafts Sterling Exchange remains at 48 pence. Gold bars are quoted at 880@890, with a continued scarcity of good average lots. Silver do remains at 12½@13 per cent premium.

Commercial affairs remain dull, and the markets are more or less unsettled, owing to the wide fluctuations in gold. The grain market is up. The difficulty of regulating foreign exchange has a tendency to restrict the export trade.

The mining market presents the following changes since the morning board yesterday: Savage advanced $50, Yellow Jacket $2 50, Ophir $1 50; Imperial declined $6 50 Chollar Potosi $2, and Confidence $15.

Howard Engine Co. No. 3, are celebrating their sixteenth anniversary and are having a jolly time at Alameda Park. Sacramento Engine Co. No. 3 from the City of the Plains are invited guests on this occasion and were received in grand style last night on the arrival of the Sacramento boat. Guns were fired, the heavens were ablaze with rockets, while a thousand torches lighted up the line of procession as the Howards with their guests, accompanied by many of our San Francisco companies who had in a neighborly way dropped in at the merry making, marched through the town to the inspiring music of numerous excellent bands.

The registration clerks have not been as busy to-day as usual. The Democrats have probably registered their main army and the work of bringing up recruits and struggliers progresses more slowly, still they are actively at work and though the number registered is smaller to day, the proportion compared with Union men continued about the same.

The telegraph gives the price of gold yesterday, 14th inst., at 142¾. The advance in gold seems to have very little effect on the market for legal tenders. The bulk of the supply here is understood to be held on speculation, and the price is about five per cent above the gold quotation. There were heavy transactions at the board this forenoon, where $50,000 changed hands at 73, seller 30, and $40,000 at 73¾. The brokers quote at 74 and 74.

The Markets.

Flour—sales include 1 100 sks Oregon superfine at $9 50@$9 75. Market is without decided change and rather dull; superfine half sacks per bbl $7 50@$8 25, quarter sacks $8 25@$8 50; extra half sacks $8 50@$8 75; extra quarter sacks $9 00@$9 50. Wheat—increased offering and limited demand. The market is lower. Prime shipping may be quoted at $1 45@$1 50, with small sales at the latter figure, and bakers extra at $1 75.

Potatoes—fresh Missis is still being $1 @ 100 lbs.

Arrived—June 14th, Brig Emily Buenngwell, 11 days from Billingham Bay.

Sailed—June 14th, Hawaiian bark Harriet, for Honolulu; Brig Stanley South, for Kanagawa and Shanghai.

By a parity of reasoning, an unsuccessful attempt to commit murder would not impair the "legal rights" of the would be criminal to personal liberty. This is a doctrine which will strike most people as rather new and startling. The intent to do a criminal act is held by the courts, we believe, to have a very decided effect upon the rights of the party accused. If a man intend to commit a murder and uses the weapons for that purpose, but is prevented by the vicinness of his intended victim, so that the attack ends in simply an assault with a deadly weapon, according to the Herald's reasoning the "unsuccessful" attempt does not impair any of the "legal rights" of the attacking party. But according to some eminent authorities, his right to run at large and repeat similar acts is not only "impaired," but absolutely forfeited, and we think there are some instances on record where such unsuccessful rebellions against law and good order have been punished. But notwithstanding these precedents, no criminal

The Reconstruction Amendment

The amendment to the Constitution reported by the committee of fifteen, was amended in the Senate in several important particulars. As it passed the Senate it provided:

1st. All persons born in the United States or naturalized therein are citizens of the United States and of the State in which they reside. No return of the United States is to suffer abridgment of rights, privileges or the protection of the laws.

2d Representatives in Congress are to be apportioned in the ratio of citizens lawfully privileged to vote.

3d. Persons who had taken the oath to support the Constitution of the United States, as members of Congress, of State legislatures or executive or judicial officers of any State and who may have violated such oath by engaging in rebellion or insurrection against the same, or in giving aid and comfort to the enemy, are excluded from being President, Vice President, Presidential Elector, Senator, Member of Congress and from holding any office civil or military under the United States or any State.

4th Sources the payment of the National debt contracted in subduing rebellion and forbids the assumption by the United States or any State, of the rebel debt or of any claim for emancipated slaves.

The dispatches published this morning announce the passage of this amendment by the House just as it came from the Senate. Congress, then, has finished its work and the question of restoration of the lately rebellious States to their proper relations with the others, is referred to the several States. They are not restricted by the necessity of adopting a proposition which can be in any sense repugnant to a good citizen. The first section but seeks to embody in the Constitution the cardinal principle of the Declaration of Independence—the right of all men to "equal and exact justice," one of Jefferson's favorite expressions of an axiom. The second fixes representation on such a basis as will be perfectly equal among all the States, or, if otherwise, the States themselves will be each responsible for whatever they may suffer. The third excludes from office only such persons as have been voluntarily guilty of both perjury and treason—persons manifestly unfit and unsafe to be trusted with the functions of office. The fourth binds the nation to the performance of a just obligation and forbids the fulfillment by the Government of the promises made by traitors. There is nothing in any of these provisions which affects injuriously in any way, the proper rights of the States or of persons. The guarantees required for the future security of the Government, are certainly as few or could have been demanded consistently with self respect and we cannot conceive that any, less offensive to the Southern States, could have been proposed.

The Minister of War at Florence has addressed a report to the King of Italy on the state of the army, from which it appears that there are at present under arms 10,004 officers and 190,325 privates, or 200,329 in all. The reserve comprises 1,754 officers and 148,600 privates, forming in all 150,114 men. Grand total, 354,742 men. Of these it is stated in the report that 240,000 men might be mobilized on the shortest notice. Moreover, 30,000 having been called out for drill, these would be fit for service about the end of May. The report also speaks highly of the present state of efficiency of the Italian army.

RAILROAD TO OREGON.—The Chico (Butte county) Courant speaking of the projected railway from Marysville to Oregon, says it learns that the money to build it is already in San Francisco. By September the cars will run from Lincoln to Marysville, making continuous railroad from Oroville to Sacramento. If the Oregon railroad bill becomes a law at an early day, the cars will run to Chico in one year, and be creeping up the valley at no small's pace, bringing the San Francisco market to the very doors of the farmers, merchants, mechanics and miners of Northern California.

THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN.

THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN is published this morning. It contains the latest and freshest news from the East and California—a selection of the best articles appearing in THE DAILY OREGONIAN, full and reliable news from the Home, and the most copious commercial information published by any paper in the State.

The average amount of reading matter in the WEEKLY OREGONIAN is double that published by any other journal in Oregon; and in the particular of Commercial statistics and the Markets we aim to make it the most reliable, more especially in matters pertaining to Oregon and her resources.

☞ Single copies 12½ cents or $3 00 per year, to any part of the United States, or British Columbia.

THE OPENING OF NINTH AND TENTH STREETS.—Mr Raleigh writes us as follows:

"As much has been said, both in your paper some time since, and by the public of the city, in relation to the opening of streets, and the matter has been brought before the Common Council during my absence from the city, allow me to trespass upon your columns to make the following proposal, which, perhaps, in the minds of an intelligent community, may disabuse opinion with reference to me.

To all parties interested in the opening of any street, or the laying out of the same through my block, I say I am ready to meet them at any time and place—and to shall appoint one Commissioner each, which two shall appoint a third Commissioner, and they shall assess the value of any land selected by them for the proposed street or streets; and they shall assess the same pro-rata on every Lot of property they may, in their judgment consider benefitted by the opening of said streets, my own included.

If gentlemen want streets through my lot, this I consider a fair offer. They purchased the contiguous property with their eyes open, and as I purchased in the same manner, it is fair or reasonable that my property should be taken without remuneration, to improve other property? My block was laid out at the same time all other blocks were laid out, hence I do not interfere with any streets, and I consider no person has just cause to complain. I do not wish to be understood as objecting to the laying out, opening, or widening of any streets, but I do hold that all property benefitted thereby should pay therefor."

As we understand the matter, it was not proposed that any injury should be sustained by Mr Raleigh in the opening of Ninth and Tenth streets. It was for the purpose of assessing benefits and damages, that the Council authorized Messrs. J. Failing, W. S. Ladd and A. H. Johnson, to view the relative position of affairs. Mr Johnson declined to serve on the commission, as he was an interested party, but Messrs. Failing and Ladd proceeded as directed, and made their report, which was submitted to the Council, and after much debate lobbied for one week. It would probably be better to have the streets opened in the manner proposed by Mr Raleigh. It is an important matter, and we consider that the petitioners have acted wisely in bringing the subject before the Council at the present day, as by letting the matter rest for a term of years it might result in a very expensive manner. There can certainly be no objection raised to the proposition of Mr. Raleigh, and we trust it will receive careful attention. The report of the viewers appointed by the council, states that the opening of the streets through E. Raleigh's land would not render his land less valuable, but at the same time they felt that he should not be compelled to open the street without compensation. The Council did not evince any disposition to act hastily about the matter, but they feel disposed to have the streets laid out before the value of the property shall oppose any greater obstacle, and they are now prepared to go on by a lawful course, to the consummation of their desires. Most likely some benefit should be awarded Mr. Raleigh, and these benefits should be stated, either by a private or public commission.

THE CITY NOMINATIONS.—Pursuant to a call of the Union Central Committee, the Union voters of the several wards met last evening for the purpose of making nominations for city councilmen, to be elected on next Monday. The Democrats, with their usual pertinacity to intrude with business that does not belong to them, rallied their forces, and by their superior numbers took the First Ward meeting in hand, elected what there were two councilmen to elect instead of one, and placed in nomination two of their own party—Mr. A. H. Hallock and Mr. H. H. Bloch. The same tactics were tried in the Second ward, but a resolution having been adopted declaring that in view the persons receiving the highest vote were unanimously the ones who should be thrown out, two Unionists were placed in nomination—Wm. Bennett and Mr. Rose. In the Third Ward the interference of Democrats spoiled nothing, and Mr. J. C. Carson and Mr. T. J. Carter were placed in nomination. We have no fault to find with the men selected in the First Ward. They are persons of as much interest in the affairs of the city as any other, and have been placed in the field by the Union party in this, but, as the Democratic Ward at any rate, it would have been more becoming had they attended their nominations by a regularly constituted Democratic meeting. If the Union men of the city do not desire to keep up their organization, and turn out on such occasions to defeat the purposes of their opponents, easily they ought not to complain about the results.

RACES FOR THE MILLION.—Picking up a Hartford, Connecticut, paper a few days since we found the following:

"Jefferson Davis is writing a book; General Lee is writing a book; Alexander H. Stephens is writing a book; ex-Senator Hunter is writing a book. They are all writing excuses for secession and assigning reasons for their failure. Ex-Senator Foote and the Southern Democratic Review men are out with theirs." Another paper says McClellan is writing a book, General Pratt, the great American traveler, is also writing a book. He will vindicate some of the Radical Republicans. He was absent a month from the Democracy of Connecticut in the recent election, but was incorruptible, and will now show up "all this." A gentleman from Washington Territory informs us that Mr. Mercer is about to publish a book, in vindication of himself on account of the late female emigration scheme. We presume our only printing book office will have all of the above works soon after they are published.

CIRCUIT COURT.—C. D. SHATTUCK, Judge—June 15th, 1866. The Grand Jury presented indictments against the following persons: Michael Gallagher, for murder in the second degree. J. C. Carter, for murder in the second degree. Ah Hing, Ah Foo, and Ah Shung, each for murder in the first degree. Susan Collins, for selling liquor to Indians .....in the jailer of the State vs. Wayne P. Hoxie, tried for larceny of $15 from the person of another, defendant was found guilty, and sentenced to the Penitentiary for one year.—John M. Perry et al, vs. N. J. Owen, tried by Jury. Verdict in favor of defendant for $20.

HOME FROM.—Mr. Kahn, of Hahn & Bros., writes under date of May 23d, that he had reached Cabinet Landing on his travels to Montana, in fine order. His train was in a very good condition, and his stock of merchandise being measurably reduced, in consequence of sales on the route. He speaks well of the Fort d'Orville route, and predicts that it will be the great thoroughfare between the Missouri and the Columbia river. He highly compliments Purser G. H. Pritchett, and the other officers of the new steamer Mary Moody, and gives a description of the boat, which he says is about the size of the steamer Mistral of the People's Transportation Company, but a much faster craft.

"CASTING REFLECTIONS."—Observing our friend "Rap" busily employed at the store of Mr. Parrish a few days since, "setting" looking glass in frames, we naturally enough questioned him regarding the proceeding, knowing as we did that his occupation was to dispose of a stock. He replied that he was preparing to "cast reflections" on the goods of the establishment. How well he succeeded needs but to be seen to be plainly understood and appreciated. By a simple process double the amount of goods are made to "appear" but for every article disposed of, the duplicate is carried away. Laude operatum.

WELL CONSIDERED.—The citizens having showed no disposition as yet to commemorate the approaching anniversary of our National Independence, in Portland, the various societies and organizations are planning excursions and dinners on their own account. The Good Templars, we understand, are intending to pursue such a course, and Multnomah Engine Company No. 2 propose having a parade and trial of their new steam engine during the day, and a ball at Oro Fino Hall in the evening.

ASSOR GRATIS.—The approaching term of the Supreme Court in Idaho, as regards legality, is questionable. A couple of Blackstones, in a correspondence to the Arcadia, decides that the term is illegal, and announces its determination to disregard it. The Boise Statesman states that if the newspapers decide one way, and the Court another, that the latter would have the advantage in enforcing its judgments, and then advises the correspondent of the Owyhee paper to "stir his law learning" best, and seek "look after his business." That's sensible.

HIGH TIDE.—A half dozen Chinook canoes, some of them rather large ones at that, touched at the foot of Oak street, on Thursday evening, and were soon emptied of their contents, consisting of cats, dogs, squaws, big and little made and female Indians, salmon, berries, chickens, eggs, etc. Sales being effected the "proud monarchs" were last evening preparing for a return trip to the Cascades, loaded down with fruits procured from the "Boston" man.

THE CONCERT.—We have barely time and space this morning to announce that the first concert of the Philharmonic society, given last evening at Oro Fino Hall was a most excellent one. The room was densely crowded.

ARRIVED.—Private dispatches announce the arrival of the steamer Fidelity at Victoria on Thursday morning.

LIFE ABOVE.—The weather is now doing well enough.

CAUTION.—The adulteration of medicinal preparations is the fault of a fortune is of all males the most eligible and convenient, more especially as regards a Cough Remedy. "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Cough Lozenges, allay irritation which induces coughing, giving instant relief in Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Influenza and Consumptive and Asthmatic complaints.

LIKE "QUAKERS' GUNS," artificial teeth are of little use and easily detected. Take care of the real ones. All you need is fragrant Sozodont, use it daily and your teeth will be the last of nature's gifts to fail you.

SMILING.—Spring seems to be smiling in the lap of Summer, and showering her tearful joys freely. Old Sol's rays have thus far been slightly obscured, but this does not at all interfere with securing those beautiful CARD PHOTOGRAPHS, SUN PEARLS, and other like Perfect Pictures, at ELLSWORTH & CARDWELL'S GALLERY, 99 First Street.

Portland R. A. C. No. 3.—Regular Convocation on the second Thursday evening of each month.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS

READ AND REFLECT.

Make sure of HEALTH. "But how?" you ask; We answer, 'tis an easy task,
Strengthen the STOMACH, and sustain
The NERVES, the servants of the brain.
The LIVER keep in active play
And regulate, from day to day.
Each organ add, on Nature's plan,
Brace and refresh the inner MAN,
And like a watch that's kept in chime
By constant care, with mainspring time,
The system's tone and strength renew,
And thereby cheer the spirits, too.
"How," you require, "can this be done?
This Victory o'er Disease be won?"
"HOSTETTER'S BITTERS," we reply,
IS HEALTH'S SUPREME PROTECTION—TRY!

As a means of regenerating the disordered and enfeebled system; regulating every function of the internal organs, reviving the depressed spirits, invigorating the constitution, and prolonging life, no medicinal preparation, either of the past or the present time, has been so completely and universally successful as

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

Against the vapors foul prepare,
That fever-taint the heavy air,
Drink not tainted the water found
In prairies, woods or marshy ground.
If sedentary toil you ply,
Nature you must assist—or die—
For when debarred from exercise
For artificial aid she tries.
Medicine's grand purpose and intent
Is threatened evil to prevent:
And if you'd be relieved or spared
From ills that crush the unprepared,
Hostetter's Bitters use—for note
They are the SUREST ANTIDOTE.

To set at defiance the miasma of unhealthy soils, the poison of unwholesome water, the effluvia of crowded work-rooms and factories, and the baneful influence of sedentary employments, it is only necessary to be forearmed with

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

Dyspepsia's pangs, that rack and grind
The body, and depress the mind!
Agues, that as they go and come,
Make life a constant martyrdom;
Colics and dysentaric pains,
(Wrath which the strong man's vigor wanes;
Illness capitatis, those tedious ills,
Nor'er conquered yet by calomel pills,
Dread diarrhœa that exalted be
Cured by destructive mercury!
Slow constitutional decay
That brings Death nearer, day by day;
Nervous prostration, mental gloom—
Heralds of tardiness or the tomb!
For these—though subjects unstrung fall—
Means of Relief at hand are half,
HOSTETTER'S BITTERS—medicine sure,
Not to prevent, alone, but cure.

In dyspepsia, fever and ague, bilious complaints, convalescence and nervous debility, constipation or costiveness, spasms, and in all complaints of Man or Woman, preceding from casual or inherent weakness of the body, the one great remedy and restorative is

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

To wanderers on sea or land,
From Polar shore to Tropic strand;
To household bands, in regions new,
And dwellers in great cities, too;
To soldiers in camp, fort and field,
Who need against disease a shield;
To miners, California bound,
And tillers of wet, marshy ground,
To feeble wives of fragile mold,
To young and middle aged, and old,
To those in health, who would enjoy
Heaven's best gifts without alloy;
To all the strengthless, weak and pale,
Who droop, yet know not what they ail,
Hostetter's Bitters we present
As Health's most potent element.

If there is any value in public opinion, or any weight in medical testimony, the very best and safest Tonic, Corrective and Alterative now before the world is

Persons of sedentary habits or afflicted with weakness, hostility, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, dizziness after eating, torpid liver, constipation &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated

PLANTATION BITTERS,

Which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities, and are rented to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and must superior to all other tonics wherein healthy, gentle stimulant is required.

They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhœa and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.

They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, wintergreen, sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St Croix rum. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.

Beware of imposters. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U. S. Stamp unmutilated over the cork, with plantation scene, and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in Bulk, is an imposter. Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles, &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

The Policy of the President

In a late speech of Julian of Indiana on the subject of the trial of Jeff Davis he uttered the following language

Sir, this golden season was sinned away by the President and that systematic treachery to his pledges and record which marked his subsequent career, has brought the country into the most fearful peril. The responsibility is upon him, and it must be measured by the magnificent opportunity which the situation afforded him for an easy solution of our national difficulties, and at the same time a solid and permanent reconstruction of the South. No important political movement says a famous English writer was ever obtained in a period of tranquility. If the effervescence of the public mind is suffered to pass away without effect, it would be absurd to expect from laugnor what enthusiasm has not obtained. If radical reform is not at such a moment, procured, all partial changes are evanescent and defeated in the tranquility which succeeds

These are suggestive and solemn words, and the reflection is a very sad one that the nation to day would have been saved and blest if the President had heeded them He disobeyed the divine command to "execute justice in the morning," and did not even remember the heathen maxim that "the gods themselves cannot save those who neglect opportunities"

Sir, while I dislike the occupation of an alarmist, I must say that I have seen few darker scenes than the present since the first battle of Bull Run The President has not kept the faith He has not made treason infamous, nor impoverished traitors He has not favored the confiscation of rebel estates, and their distribution among the poor He has not required traitors to take the back seats in the work of reconstruction. He has not co operated with Congress in placing the governing power of the South and of the nation in the hands of loyal men. He has not shown himself the Moses of our loyal colored millions in leading them out of that grievous bondage. He has done the opposite of all these. The Richmond Times, the leading organ of treason in Virginia, says that "in his course toward the mass of those who supported the Southern Confederacy, the President has been singularly magnanimous and lenient Nine tenths of those who for four years, with unparalled gallantry, upheld the Confederacy, have long since been unconditionally pardoned The Cabinet officers who counseled the President of the Confederacy, the Congressmen who enacted those stringent conscript and imprisonment laws which kept up our armies, and many distinguished Generals of the Confederate armies, have either been formally pardoned, or been released upon parole, and no one dreams that they will ever be molested in person or estate. The military hostiles of the country, with one exception, have long since been thrown open, and the distinguished Confederate exiles who were confined in them have been restored to their friends and families." And these Virginia traitors who thus damn our President by their encomiums openly demand the unconditional release of Jefferson Davis from prison Judging the President by the tenor of his policy thus far, the demand will be complied with When he decided, nearly a year ago, against the trial of Davis by a military Court, he virtually decided that treason should go unpunished, for no jury of Southern rebels would ever find a verdict of guilty, and the trial itself would only be an insult to the nation. Jefferson Davis, I doubt not, is to be restored to his family and friends, and the argument of consistency demands it at the hand of the President.

Robert E Lee, whose spared life has outraged the honest claims of the gallows ever since his surrender, is running at large, perfectly unmolested and safe from all harm Black with treason, perjury and murder, guiltier by far than the Christless wretch who obeyed his orders in starving our soldiers at Andersonville, he goes his way in peace, while the Government, in this monstrous and appalling fact, confesses to the world that treason is unworthy of its notice. He is President of a Virginia college; and teacher of her youth. He visits Washington and tenders his advice to our public men about the work of restoring the Union. He goes before the Reconstruction Committee and gives his testimony, as if an oath could take any possible hold on his scared conscience, and all that can be said is, that his unpunished crimes are doing precisely as much to make the Government infamous, as the Government itself has done to make those crimes respectable. The Legislature of Virginia indorses him as a fit man for Governor, and the champions of the proposition visit our Republican President, laud his principles and policy, and take the front seats in the house of his friends

The Vice President of the Southern Confederacy is likewise at large, and has been elected a Senator in Congress from his State, He also visits Washington, and gives his testimony before the joint committee of fifteen. Like the other leading traitors, he very naturally "accepts the situation," because he could not do otherwise, but he shows not the smallest token of penitence, says the rebels were in the right, and seems wholly unconscious of his real character as simply an unhung traitor, whose advice and opinions we shall only accept at their value. Leading traitors are not only pardoned at wholesale, but they hold nearly all the places of power and profit in the South. They are made Governors, Judges, Postmasters, revenue officers, and are likewise chosen to represent their cause in Congress; and the President, our distinguished Secretary of the Treasury, and the Postmaster General, have all only trampled under their feet the law of Congress requiring a test oath, in order that rebels might fill these offices, and on the false pretence that loyal men could not be found qualified to fill them in a country which furnished more than forty thousand loyal white soldiers during the war. As might naturally be expected under this system of reconstruction loyal men are more unsafe in the revolted districts now than they were before the war, while the condition of the negroes in very many localities is morb pitiably deplorable than that of their former slavery. So intense and wide spread is the feeling of hostility to the Union in those regions that loyalty is branded as both a crime and a disgrace, while even Wilkes Booth is regarded as a martyr, and his pictures hung in, the parlors of "Southern gentlemen" whose children are called by his name.

Nor am I surprised at the audacity of the rebel leaders. Neither do I complain, or blame them They do not disguise their real character and opinions, because they have been made sure of the Executive favor. With the President resolutely on the side of Congress in this crisis, a very different exhibition of feeling and policy would have been developed in the South. The danger now at our doors would never have appeared. The prospect of another bloody war to complete the work which we supposed already accomplished would never have alarmed the country. The President has deserted the loyal millions who crushed the rebel cause at the end of a conflict of four years, and joined himself to that very cause, which is now borrowing new life from the fertilizing sunshine of his favor, reasserting its old heresies, and renewing its treasonable demands. This is at once the root and source of our present national troubles, the prophecy and parent of whatever calamity may come The President not only opposes the will of the nation, the policy of the nation, as expressed through Congress, but he brands as traitors before a rebel mob leading and representative men in both houses who are as guiltless of treason as the great majority with whom they act. Not content with the good fellowship of the men who began the war and fought us with matchless desperation to the end, he unites with them in branding loyalty itself as treason, while he employs the power and patronage of his high office in rewarding his minions, and opposing the very men who made him their standard bearer along with Abraham Lincoln, in the faith that his loyalty was unselfish and sincere. In fact, every phase of the Presidential policy, as latterly displayed, confounds the difference between loyal and disloyal men, and gives aid and comfort to the rebels by mitigating or removing the just consequences of their crimes.

Mr Speaker, this policy, utterly fatal to the nation's peace, as I have shown, must be abandoned. The Government cannot wholly undo the mistakes of the past, but it can do much for the future, and save the loyal cause if the people who see the threatened danger, will set their selves to work so resolutely as to compel a change In God's name, let this be done Let the people speak, for the power is in their hands, and if faithful now, as they proved themselves during the war, justice will prevail Let them thunder it in the ears of the President that the nation can not be saved, nor the fruits of the victory gathered, if in the settlement of this bloody conflict with treason right and wrong are confounded and public justice trampled down This is the duty of the loyal millions and here lies the danger of the hour It is just as impossible for the country to prosper if it shall sanction the present policy of the Executive as it is for a man to violate a law of his physical being and escape the consequences The demands of justice are as inexorable as the demands of natural law in the material world, and the moral distinctions which God himself has established cannot be slighted with the least possible impunity by individuals or nations There is a difference, heaven-wide, between fighting for a slave empire and fighting for freedom and the universal rights of man The cause of treason and the cause of loyalty are not the same Perjury is not as honorable as keeping a man's oath The black flag of slavery and treason was not as noble a standard to follow as that of the stars and stripes The leading traitors of the South should not have the same honorable treatment and recognition as the patriot heroes of the Union Thousands of gallant men and the threats of butchery should not defraud the gallows while ordinary murderers are hung Jefferson Davis should not have the same honorable place in history as George Washington Benedict Arnold was not the equal model of a patriot, nor was Judas Iscariot to high souled gentleman and a man of honor; nor even Cromwell guilty of the crime his country engaged in a mistaken one The great moments in the world's history would lose their significance and the impassioned words which have fallen from the lips of the Fathers After such insults as those above named, is there any longer any doubt as to the duty of the Union men of this State? The country is full of traitors, and they are all for shooting Union men and indorsing Andrew Johnson

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

WEEKLY REVIEW

PORTLAND, June 15th, 1866

The following concerning the defeat of the Northern Pacific Railroad bill in Congress, we quote from the Stockton (Cal) Independent.

"The Northern Pacific Railroad bill was demagogued to death in the House of Representatives. The word twisting with which Mr Wentworth worried Mr Price of Iowa, and the other friends of the bill, was of the veriest kind, while Mr Washburne played Demosthenes for the occasion and reared it down If it were worth while to institute a comparison between the Central and Northern routes to the Pacific, there are many reasons why the latter should have the preference. The Northern route can be made available in one-third of the time required for the other. The country through which it passes is capable of sustaining a large population The probability is that settlements would follow it, and keep even pace with it to the mountains, thus furnishing it local traffic, and making a sale for the Government lands on the line of the route Moreover, it is less exposed to the embargo of snows in the winter"

Coming from the source it does, the above paragraph has more than usual interest attached to it That such statements are truthful none will gainsay, and being truthful, it is all important that the friends of the Northern Pacific Railroad urge the enterprise with renewed efforts Our information from the East shows that it is the united purpose of those leading contracting interests in various roads from Boston to Chicago to push the work forward, as I we may say that there is every encouragement to hope that the Northern Pacific will be the first railroad completed across the continent, notwithstanding the late action of Congress

In papers which we have recently published, it has been shown that the direct course of traffic with China from this Pacific coast, lies from the 46th parallel of latitude, the Columbia river The idea that ships calculated for such a trade could not pass Columbia river bar, was patented by parties whose interests were in an opposite direction, and from investigations which are being now prosecuted enough has been learned to enable us to contradict these statements, and the fact is becoming established that the largest ships can conveniently reach this port. Such being the case who can comprehend the magnitude of business likely to immediately spring up when the Northern Pacific Railroad is completed, and communication is well established with China?

These connections will form a direct line between the Eastern States of this continent and a country capable of sustaining a more immense commerce than any other known region in the world, and laying aside any reference to the results to be derived from the present and prospective business of freighting supplies to Montana and intermediate and tributary Territories, we feel great confidence in asserting that two railroads could not for some time to come do the business which would be offered upon the completion of this one line

Probably the strongest argument that could be offered for the speedy construction of the Northern Pacific Road would be a statement of the immense amount of money paid as freight on goods machinery etc handed from points on the Columbia river to the various mines, and we regret that we are unable to furnish them in detail The figures would show an immense business, and one which is gradually increasing from year to year, as the mining regions are being developed Could the country have facilities for cheap transportation that would justify the forwarding of lower grades of metals such as iron, copper and even silver ores for reduction we confess our inability to estimate the result as which would annually mount up the imports and exports of this section of the Pacific coast

The British Government has nearly completed arrangements for putting into operation at Hong Kong a mint capable of turning out $80,000 in silver per day The design adopted for the new coin is an effigy of the Queen with encircling words in English and Chinese Three years ago when the Duke of Newcastle advocated threatened assistance of this mint he met

The British share of the foreign trade of China and Japan is estimated at thirty five millions sterling and the vast traffic is carried on chiefly by means of the money loaned at the opposite side of the globe, the supply of which is so uncertain and insufficient that it became a premium (as long as it continued in force) buying from five to ten per cent

The premium on Mexican dollars was relied upon for success in the plan of introducing a new coinage which I suggested in my report as expect will be as a pubic as the old mint perhaps ultimately replace the Mexican dollar, which is having its high esteem by the Chinese

We are still in further advices of importance from the East All reports concur that money in New York is literally a drug on the market Large amounts are being invested in the 6 per cents under call at 90 but there was still a greater amount of unemployed finances on the market which was tendered at 4 per cent in gold collateral security without selling, borrowers Gold has ranged at the 35 per cent

There are no indications at hand to show the early abandonment of the war by rebels or indicate any material increase in deposits at home for the week ending to-day There has been no small amount of the taxable property fully listed turned into taxable property—Federal securities—thus saving somewhat the former available capital for the State but as its resumption notices are considered the best collateral for call loans that can be in effect in creating a stringency and the subject of many editorials, if pursued carefully, would present the principal cause for the scarcity of money in this market.

Wholesale and Jobbing Prices.

PORTLAND, June 15th, 1866

The markets contain an ample supply of all leading articles, and trade in a general way may be considered brisk with a continued good demand Prices generally are about the same as last week There are but few alterations to note We receive fair shipments to the mining regions The prices of freight for the month to day are at present are seven cents per pound which has also been the rate considered in that direction and from parties who have recently been to Montana, we are informed that the busy season of the year and the country will be in that direction a month or two hence Merchants who have shipped to that country this season have done well and will no doubt be in readiness to do so next year

The price of iron, both of home and Portland manufacture is about the same as previously quoted Nails are still held at previous rates

Domestic Produce Market.

PORTLAND, June 15th, 1866

There is no special interest observed in the domestic produce market which is very inactive Sales of flour are increasing as the demand improves, but rates remain without change and we renew our former quotations

Grain is dull of sale, and there is but little offering Buyers give for wheat to day 76 cts, per bushel The market for oats is quiet, there being a moderate supply on hand and prices remain without alteration Timothy seed for bacon is steady, but there is little doing Our quotations may be considered the outside prices Well cured pork house cured, shoulders readily command 11 cts per lb and there is apparently more call for a prime article of this class than of other qualities, as the stock on hand is somewhat broken

Another slight advance has taken place with reference to eggs, occasioned principally in consequence of recent shipments Prices to-day favor the seller as stocks are light and an increasing demand may be looked for the coming week, incident to the expected arrival of three steamers from California

The demand for Butter has not diminished, but free supplies have checked the market and the prices are falling There have been sales of some choice brands during the period passing in review, at figures a few cents in advance of our quotations, but purchasers hold that they cannot afford, under the present state of the market to fix prices any higher Cheese is in steady demand, at full rates

From preparations which are being made by the farming community who are purchasing largely of harvesters and reapers in this market, we deem it the part are calculating upon a full round crop Machines are now leaving the city almost daily in every direction, some of which are for rather remote sections

Weekly Retail Family Market.

PORTLAND, June 15th, 1866

Green apples are very scarce, and high prices are held A good quality of fruit is almost impossible to be obtained Dried fruit is a shade higher, in consequence of an increasing demand for shipment, and an advance of prices in the jobbing market The same may be said regarding peaches Groceries generally have a downward tendency There is a more constant and liberal supply of butter in the market, hence prices have declined Eggs have advanced under the pressure of shipments to Victoria and San Francisco Poultry continues scarce, and prices are firm, which is something unusual at this season of the year It is expected that the next steamer will bring large supplies of vegetables from California, and for this reason the market is less active in those articles, and a decline is anticipated, Strawberries and cherries appear in the market to a moderate extent, at prices not considered out of reason for the period We quote to-day as follows

Cotton Goods and Woolen Market.

PORTLAND, June 15th, 1866

Wool comes into market rather sparingly, on account of the bad condition of the roads but small lots are freely offered as I prices for the week passing in review have little former tendency

Messrs. Knapp Burrell & Co's Eastern wool report for the California steamer of May 11th, 1866, states that a light, but steady demand existed in New York at that date Holders were firm in meeting buyer's views, and prices were steady, and without change About 150 000 lbs Californias, (which in the true interpretation includes Oregon) had been sold the day previous at rates quoted as follows Spring clip, best Oregon grades 55c @ 60c as to distance, 52c Carry 50c and under No predictions as to the prospects for the new clip were offered The dry goods trade and the contemplated tariff would have on the wool trade influences on the future The prices of hides continued to have great effect on the rates for wool

Messrs Baum Dreyfus & Co, agents for the Pilot Knob Woolen Mills, at Dallas, have received the first shipment of superior assorted flannels which compare favorably with other manufactures of the State and like the products of the salem and Oregon City works are really superior to the imported article

Messrs Ladd & Knott are at out engaging largely in the manufacture of woolen of the finer goods as at this city and it will have a good effect on the market soon enabling purchasers to make their selections from first hands Trade is inactive without any change in prices We quote
